

Index of Stories

Introduction

‘Hi, Mommy!’: Sarah’s surprise	1-2
His Baby Buggy versus Her Cigarette: Turf wars at the beach	13-14
Fat, Hairy and Thonged: TMI from the next blanket over	14
Sand Castles and Boundary Play	15-16

Chapter One: Secrets and Secrecy

Lessons from a Lost Testicle	21-22
My Twin Sister Got Pregnant	28
A Hundred Dollars down the Toilet	28-29
My Mother, My Period, and the Bra under My Pillow	30
C-Section Bonding	31
He Broke My Water	31-32
Kissed by the Camp Director	32-33
Forrest Didn’t Brush His Teeth	36
Did Daddy Hear That -- or Not?	42-43
Throwing Up is Your Own Business	43-44
Sharing a Sick Daughter’s Secret	44-45
If You’re Going to Get Hurt, I’m Going to Tell	46-47
Naked and Bound on the First Floor	48-49
The Lesbian Professor Who Outed Her Students	49-50
Joan, an Incest Victim	50-51
The Joy of Medicine Cabinets	52-53
The College Years: Mastering the Art of Camouflage and Intimidation	53-55
Firing the Center’s Director	55-56
I Thought I Had Lice, Sweetheart, But Never Mind	56-58
I Tell Myself to Forget It – and I Do	58-59
College Roommates Swap Journals	59-60
Undercover Police Work	61-64
A Daughter’s Eye Twitch and a Mom’s Conclusion	65-66
Outed in the New York Times	66-67
Managing Projects for Rival Clients	67-70
Journals and Letters: There are things about parents you don’t want to know	71
Sorry, but that Friendly Guy with the Dog is a Child Molester	73-74
What People Make: Securing the company’s most valuable information	74-75
Well, Of Course I’m Gay – It’s My Divorce I don’t Want You to Know About	77
I Have No Place to Hide Anything	78
Family Collusion: Christmas Presents and Parental Sex	79
Police Surveillance	80-81

Working for the Signal Corp	82
I Have Something I Have to Tell You: My son is gay	83
An Oath Signed in Blood	88
Tonsillectomy Torment: What did I say?! What did I say?!	88
Truth or Dare, Sealed with a Kiss	89
Transgendered Secrets	89-96

Chapter Two: Wallets and Purses

Grandma's Purse is Private	97
The Diabetic on the Sidewalk	98-99
My Purse Spilled Out in Public	119-120
A Sobering Case of Identity Theft	121-123
How I Handle My Purse	126
Platinum -- with a Zero Balance!	138
Family Vacation Souvenir: Put it on the card	138
My Well-Organized Money: Thanks, Dad	149
Carry the Medal or Buy the Drinks	150
I Don't Need Any Help in Not Forgetting	151

Chapter Three: Cell Phones and Email

Note to Flashers: I'm Not Looking Anymore	166
A Dripping Baby Across the Floor	171
Telephone Etiquette Transformation	172-173
Telemarketers Be Gone! You Have No Power Here!	174
My Boss Calls My Boyfriend's Cell	172-176
When Your Son is Your Sys Admin	190-191
Caller ID, the PBA, and Famous Friends	193-194
There are Penalties to be Paid: From our Telezapper to our new curtains	205-208

Chapter Four: Doorbells and Windows

Answering the Door: Our dogs and the Halloween Rule	217-218
A Close Call at the Front Door?	219-220
To Escape or Not to Escape: It's the Jehovah's Witnesses	222
The Code: Drapes open or closed?	223-224
The Bachelor Down the Block (Yes, we see your muscles)	224
Inner Offices are for Bigger Secrets	226
Splashing in the Sink: The neighbors are watching	227
We Love What You've Done With the Place ...and Your Pajamas, Too	228-229
I See Them Watching TV and Him Sneaking a Smoke	229-230
Hi From the El	230

They Actually Stopped and Stared In	231
I Don't Care Anymore If They See Me Changing	231-232
A Beard and a Mohawk and Not Much Else	232
Shred It, Soak It, Burn It	234-235
On the Job Training – Question: Should you throw this out?	235
In the City, Trash is Fair Game	236
Interesting Garbage on the Top, Please	237
The Old “Rip then Distribute across Different Cans” Trick	238
The Case of the Missing Prototype – and My Wife's Burn Bag	239-240
I Bought a Shredder; I Haven't Opened It	241
Time to Sneak Out the Christmas Tree	242-243
Military Intelligence 101: You can learn a lot about people from their mail	244-245
Unforgiveable: My neighbor wrote on my mail	248-247
Creepy Mailmen	247-248
Return to (Adulterous) Sender	248-249
It's Snowing: 'Time to get my chairs out'	249-250
Don't the Neighbors Complain About Your Lawn?	252
'It Takes Nine Years and a Dog'	253-254
The Doggie Group Grapevine	255
Swirl the Squirrel and His Canine Friends	256-257
A Gate Designed to be Climbed Over	259
Section Eight Kids: No respect	260
This Funny Little Dance	261
Oops! Caught Looking, Now What?	262-263
Avoiding the Ever-present Neighbor	263
A Seinfeld Moment: Cookies from the lady downstairs	264-265
A Garage Sale Fight, Some Overgrown Bushes, and the Isolated Nanny	265-266
Growing up Black in the South	267-268
Wind Chimes and Electric Guitars	272-273
The Projects versus the Dorms	273-274
The Condo Board and the Teenagers from Hell	274-275
A Block Full of Parties	277
The Civility of the South and the Anonymity of the North	278-279
No Privacy for Those on Welfare	279
Small Town Inconsistencies from Grandma

280

Conclusion

Cat with a Condom, Christians on the Couch	283
Bellowing Names at the Gynecologist's	285
Encounters on the Bus	286

A Foul-Mouthed Guy in the Restaurant	286
Hands off My Food	287
The Co-worker Who Wouldn't Stop Talking	287
Tracking His Wife's Cycle So Everyone Could See	287-288
The Meaning of 'Yeah?'	288
My Mother, the Vulture	288-289
Transvaginal Hysterectomy: Invasion of privacy?	291-292
Just Take Out the Stitches	295-296
Why My Phone Number is Unlisted	296
I Told My Landlord I Would Cut Him	296-297
Sam's, Gillette, Dominick's and Amazon	299-300
Adaptations: ATM fraud, now what?	301-302
Finding a Happy Medium: No propping the door, but skip the second lock	302-303
A Lost To-Do List	303-304
The Left-Handed Mouse and Other Ways to Fend off Intruders at Work	306-309
Animal Rights Terrorists: Protecting your family	309-310
No Paper Trails for Medical Insurers	311
The Stranger on the Desk	314-315
Post-9/11 Worries for a Christian Arab-American	317
A Thirteen-Year-Old Identity Thief?	318
Security Versus Privacy in New York's Financial District	319-321
I Worry that I Don't Worry Enough	322